

Albert S. Wilcox Of Kauai Is Dead

Amassed A Large Fortune In Sugar
And Stock—Was Born In Hawaii
And Made Many Notable Donations
To Its Institutions

Albert Spencer Wilcox, retired planter and one of Hawaii's wealthiest men, died Monday afternoon at his home on Kauai. Mr. Wilcox had been ill for some time and had been operated upon two or three times.

Mr. Wilcox was born at Hilo, Hawaii, May 24, 1844, the son of Abner and Lucy Eliza (Hart) Wilcox. He was educated at home and at Punahou. He married Emma Kaulikeolani Napoleon June 7, 1868.

Long Grew Cane

He was manager of Lihue Plantation for many years. He also started a sugar plantation at Waipa, Kauai, which was discontinued a few years later, and afterward took cane contracts from Princeville Plantation. He raised sugar cane for Hanalei mill 1897-98.

Mr. Wilcox had resided at Kilauea, Lihue, Kauai since 1892, devoting his time to stock raising. He was president of C. Brewer & Co., Estate, Ltd., a director of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, Kekaha Sugar Co., Lihue Plantation Co., Wailanae Plantation Co., Home Insurance Company and was interested in many other enterprises.

He was a member of the house of representatives of the Kingdom of Hawaii for two years, 1891-92. He was a member of the Pacific, Ad and Country Clubs of Honolulu, and of the chamber of commerce.

Illness Grows Serious

A year ago in May Mr. Wilcox became dangerously ill and a special steamer was chartered to take Mrs. J. R. Judd and F. L. Putnam to Kauai to attend him. A month later he had improved from the operation of the month before and was able to be out.

Mr. Wilcox was a philanthropist and gave freely, heavily and without ostentation. Many institutions in Honolulu established to succor the sick, as well as institutions to help orphans could only be started because of Mr. Wilcox's financial assistance. In 1907 he agreed to give $50,000 towards building the Children's Hospital of Honolulu, an institution which has been of rare value to the little folk of the city.

In 1899 he presented a new church to Lihue, Kauai and in 1906 donated $25,000 to Oahu College.

Mr. Wilcox's stepson, Albert, recently returned from army service in France, having gone from Honolulu to Allentown, Pennsylvania, to train for ambulance work. Another son Sam Mahelona died a few years ago. Mrs. Wilcox was with her husband when he died.

Held Large Estates

Mr. Wilcox not only made Kauai his home and the major field of his extensive cane and stock raising enterprises but Kauai was to a large extent his domain and that of his two brothers. He amassed a fortune in the plantation business and other corporations, owning heavy blocks of stocks in Brewer & Company and the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company.

Peeved Employee Sues Lurline

Through the filing of complaint of libel against the steamer Lurline, lying at Pier 19, Attorney George A. Davis attempts to prevent the liner from sailing next Monday unless it pays $520 to Rafael Galindo, a Mexican, who was employed as a steward on the vessel when it left San Francisco and was discharged here.

Galindo says in his complaint that he was employed as a steward at San Francisco at a salary of $85 a month. He further complains that when the Lurline reached this port he was discharged without cause.

He sues the vessel for the $52 representing his month's salary, $165 damages for alleged breach of contract, $200 for expenses pending the suit and $100 for passage money back to San Francisco. The total damages asked amount to $520.

Foresters Pass Resolution Of Appreciation For Entertainment By Maui Citizens

The Foresters marched in two by two hurrah! The Foresters came, a goodly crew, hurrah! They put the old tid upon the rack. They had a good time and they're coming back. And they all felt gay as the bunch went marching home.

After the three days' celebration Maui people needed a rest. So strenuous was the entertainment of and by the visitors from the Big City that many had to go to bed for several days to recuperate. But didn't they have a good time! There was something doing for them from early dawn until the wee small hours, from the minute they set foot upon the dock at Kahului. The foresters convention was a marked success and that our visitors enjoyed themselves is attested to by the following resolution which J. L. Ordenstein district secretary has requested be published by The Maui News.

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors and the Public in general of the County of Maui have been most kind, courteous and generous in their hospitality and entertainment of the officers, delegates and visiting Foresters of this District Court, assisting most materially in their enjoyment and comfort. Warns That Crater Activity Is Near

Emil Berndt Makes Statement That Haleakala Is Likely To Break Out
In Next Four Years

Emil A. Berndt of Honolulu, who has been visiting Maui for the past twenty years, started a dinner party last week by stating during his talk that Haleakala was due to do things between now and 1923. He stated that according to the records of Professor Jagger Haleakala got busy every 126 years, as Mauna Loa does every 20 years, and that Maui people could expect to see activity in their supposedly extinct crater at any time during the next four years, as the 126 years cycle for Haleakala was approaching. He further said that this activity was always preceded by rumblings for several years, and the uneasiness of the company was added to when it was reported that rumblings had been reported from several places on the islands, the most distinct being in the vicinity of Punahoa hospital. Mr. Berndt based his assertions on the correctness of the prophecies of Dr. Jagger, who, he asserted, said it was to be expected. Mr. Berndt who with Mrs. Berndt is spending a vacation on Maui with Mr. and Mrs. Worth Aiken, will pay his annual visit to Haleakala and spend several days in the crater bed.

Break Law But Can't Be Jailed

If a T. B. gets rambunctious and disturbs the peace, what's to be done with him? This was the question that puzzled the judge of Makawao court-house this week when two offenders from Kula Sanitarium were brought to him for indulging in a free for all fight in the ward. On account of them being tubercular patients they could not be sent to jail and they could not be fined because they had no money. The knot is still untied, and will remain fast until the end of a six months suspended sentence by which time Judge M. Pacheco may have solved the difficulty.

Cherchez la femme. She was a Filipino woman and Victoriano Santos was engaging her in airy conversation, evidently enjoying his popularity. Luserian, a Filipino patient who desired conversation with the woman himself got jealous and applied an appropriate epithet to Santos. And, to use the Irish expression, "they kicked up a devil of a row just then." Santos threw his empty pol bowl at Luserian. His opponent replied by throwing all his tray full of dishes. The rest of the patients ducked except one Pusian who valiantly came to the assistance of his friend Santos, and then the furniture, bedding and anything that was movable flew through the air. Luserian found a carving knife with which he made ready to protect himself. At this juncture Miss Groves, supervising nurse sent in a hurry call for the police and the culprits were shortly hauled off to the Makawao police station, with the reluctant puzzling of the judge. The offenders have been returned to Kula Sanitarium and admonished to stay on their good behavior.

A pleasant welcome to the many newcomers which Wailuku has acquired during the past several months was given last Thursday evening by Dr. and Mrs. George Aiken in their home on High street, when a caterer's supper and bridge was held. During the dinner the names of the various newcomers were called to which they responded by rising or a short speech. Bridge was played for the balance of the evening after the dinner. Auto Crash On Main Street

Another example of the dangers of giving chauffeurs licenses to inefficient drivers was given last Monday night when two Buick cars came together with a crash in front of the new bank building on Main street. About 8 o'clock Attorney Enos Vincent was driving up the street with Mrs. Vincent. As he approached the bank building a wagon, without lights was standing at the right hand curb. To avoid it Mr. Vincent swung to the left and as he cleared he saw a Buick car driven by a Japanese coming down the hill in the center of the road. He could not turn to the right as the rules called for without running into the wagon, so instead he turned to the extreme left, and his wheels grazed the left hand curb. Had the Japanese swung slightly to the left he had a clear road, but instead he turned to the right and crashed into Mr. Vincent's car. Only the fact that Mr. Vincent was going slowly he believes saved him from serious injury. There were no casualties further than injuries to fenders, lights and axles of each car.
